

10 Reasons to give Jesus a chance

Merry Christmas

Joy

Joy (Matthew 25:21)

“His master said to him, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master.’”

God finds Joy in creating. When he made you, me, and the whole world he said it was good. Someone told me that God does not make junk. I believe it. Never has God made me feel that I was a mistake or worthless. Sometimes though we don't feel this Joy that Christians say we will have. I call it the “now but not yet rule.” The “now” is that we are growing in understanding ourselves, this earth, and who God is. Sometimes it is painful to grow just as it was for our body. Joy is found in knowing someone cares about us deeply. They have our back and want us to become something special.

The “not yet” part is what I call “complete Joy.” We find joy in relationships, but a marriage can be complete joy. When a believer goes to heaven they experience a complete Joy. The joy God has for Jesus, the Spirit, and creation is in heaven. When we enter Gods Joy in heaven we will find it complete. Believing in Jesus is more than just getting joy, happiness, and faith. It is a journey where we discover the joy of God along the way. I think there is Joy in that hope. Give Jesus a chance to share his Fathers joy with you this Christmas.
