

10 Reasons to give Jesus a chance

Money (Ephesians 4:28)

“Let the thief no longer steal, but rather let him labor, doing honest work with his own hands, so that he may have something to share with anyone in need.”

I could tell you many Bible scriptures about Money. I could tell you that money is the root of all evil because that's what people say. What does God really think about money? Money is good if money is gained honestly. A person who is hard working and careful with their money knows how valuable it is. God wants us to go further this year. Some people want to work hard but times are tough. Some people need to learn how to hard work? God is asking us who know how to live well to share our wisdom and wealth. Money is good for giving, travel, and life in general. Money is not evil if we share it.

A man named Paul in the Bible worked hard for his money so that he would not be a burden others. His principles were to give an honest effort and pay a worker in abundance. God told the people if they gave in generosity it would be returned to them tenfold. Jesus never worried about money because God always provides in times of need.

Think of it this way: you know how to work hard and save. Could you share that with others? Sometimes people just need a little help to get by, but they equally need your encouragement about life and hard work. Give the gift of you and your hard earned money this Christmas. A life with Jesus is all about discovering your heart. God wants us to know ourselves better. Then we are more confident and effective in life. Jesus can help you discover your place in this world. Knowing yourself seems to take the place of money. Would you give Jesus a chance to show you 'you' this Christmas?
